Following the introduction of Open Skies, Continental Airlines relocated their Gatwick base of operation to a purpose built facility at Heathrow's Terminal 4.

K2 provided the link between the client and the Airport Operator, BAA. With constant focus on the client's best interests in all project and program matters, a timely handover of the facility was secured.

In addition a number of value added services were provided including logistical support as well as procurement advice and negotiation. K2 acted as the clients sole agent here in the UK.
